

Licence agreement

1. Licence issue

The software company Fine Ltd. ("Fine") confirms granting a license for use of the purchased computer program, manual and other accompanying documentation on your computer or the computer under your supervision providing you comply with the following licensing conditions. Licensing conditions may differ depending on the hardlock used, which serves to protect the software against the making of illegal copies. Both local (single computer) and net (computers connected through a net system) hardlocks are available.

Local licence

Providing you purchase a local version, the following licensing conditions apply:

- The program can be installed on arbitrary number of computers
- The program will not operate unless the appropriate hardlock is used.
- All programs can be installed using a single or multiple hardlock, depending on the number of licenses purchased and specific user requirements.

Network licence

Purchasing a license for installing the program in a network of computers gives you with the possibility of using the program as a multi-user installation under the following conditions:

- The program shall be used in a computer network
- One or more users are allowed to work with the same program depending on the number of purchased licenses, i.e. more users may have an access to the same program, but at a given time the number of users is limited by the number purchased licenses.
- The program will not operate unless the appropriate network hardlock is used.

Multi-licence

Providing you purchase a multi-licence, you can use arbitrary number of local and network licences.

Full licence

Programs are purchased for full price and they can be used for commercial purposes.

Educational licence

We offer significant discounts on software licences exclusively for educational purposes such as trainings, classes or individual study. The licence must not be used for commercial or any other purposes.

Demo version

Demo-versions including all manuals stored on CD are supplied free of charge. Demo CD can be delivered by regular mail upon request or downloaded here: www.fine.cz/download

Freeware

Freeware programs are full versions of programs and are supplied for free. No hardlock is needed to run a freeware version.

2. General conditions

The price includes an installation CD, quick start manual and user manual in electronic form on the CD.

The user has the right to create an arbitrary number of copies of the installation CD for personal own use. A new CD is provided to the user if the original is lost or damaged. All manuals are available on the CD in electronic format. Installation (or demo) CD is be delivered by regular mail free of charge.

Loosing a hardlock results in a loss of the corresponding license.

If a hardlock is damaged we offer the possibility of a replacement for the cost of a new hardlock. The old key, however, must be returned.

3. Customer support

Basic technical support is provided to all our customers for free via e-mail hotline@fine.cz or through the technical support contact form.

Basic technical support is also provided to users with older versions of our programs. However, we reserve the right to terminate technical support of versions with at least two available upgrades to the current date. You may purchase a single program upgrade or get them through subscribing to Fine Maintenance program.

4. Restrictions

The license owner is not authorized to:

- Carry out inverse analysis, software de-compilation or de-composition unless under legal resolutions such steps are needed to obtain information necessary to achieve mutual compatibility of this software with an independently developed program or with other programs providing the information if not immediately provided by Fine or not otherwise available.
- Provide, distribute, lease, lend, or sell a software license or in some other way to transfer software, documentation or its parts, or rights granted by the license agreement to any other person without prior written approval given by Fine.
- Remove, modify or hide any description, labels or logo from the software or its documentation.
- Modify, translate or adapt the licensed program and documentations or to propose or create new products on their basis.
- Use any devices, software or other tools to overcome or remove any form of program protection used by Fine against illegal copying, or to use software with a hardlock, an authorized code, a serial number or other devices for protection against illegal copying not provided by Fine or by an authorized dealer.

5. Disclaimer of liability

Fine shall not be liable for direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special, or exemplary damages (even if advised of the possibility of such damages) such as, but not limited to, loss of revenue, substitute goods/services, or anticipated profits or lost business.
